

LOVELY LOUNGE – Relaxing tones, muted shades, a lack of clutter and plenty of light can be the hallmark of your new lounge when you downsize.

BEDROOM BEAUTY – Go for pretty fabrics in blinds and warm shades that can be picked up in bedding to create this attractive smaller bedroom.

another charitable organisation may be willing to pick up your item to sell for funds or to give it a good home with someone else who really needs it.

It's important to plan ahead with your new space. "Think about how you're going to use the space you are moving to," says Chrissy. "What is the purpose of each room? How many people will you need to fit in to sit? Will you really need a dining room specifically?"

"Situations change and what you once needed you may no longer require. If you actually look at how much time you spend in each room of your current home now, you may be very surprised at how little space you actually use on a regular basis. Take this – and what items you use – as a gauge for what you need to take with you."
